FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Food Tour to Kick Off in Hawkins Village in Honor of Antwon Rose II

June 19, 2020 from 3:00pm - 5:00pm in Hawkins Village kicks off the first stop of the Feed the Hood Food Tour. This year marks the second anniversary of the day Antwon Rose II was murdered by East Pittsburgh police officer, Micheal Rosfeld. His killer remains free and unaccountable for taking a young man's life, however, Antwon's purpose lives on. The goal of this tour is to "feed the hood" while also providing essential resources like mental health support by Black providers, establishing food security, and access to livable wage employment, to name a few. The tour was organized by Michelle Kenney, Antwon Rose II's mother, along with Feed the Hood Pittsburgh, the Hill Consensus Group, The Wellness Collective, and Penn Hills Red Phoenix. It will kick off in Antwon's neighborhood, Hawkins Village in Rankin, PA and travel around the county. Chef Los hopes to establish a "Feed the Hood" site at every neighborhood visited to provide long term food access. For more information, contact Chef Los at justsaychef@gmail.com or Neashia Johnson at neashia@hdcg.org. To volunteer contact The Wellness Collective at thewellfolk@gmail.com and to donate, contact Michelle Kenney via Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/michelle.kenney.127>
